Dear Harold,

As per my conversations with N.P., it would appear that serious problems have developed re: P.M. My advice is to accept any terms for the simplest of reasons - any% of anything is greater than 0% of 0! Besides, on a commercial level P.M. does not have fiscal potential of paperback sales viability.

Perhaps, the best commercial avenue is to get a writer like the Sepia Author to co-write articles on, say, domestic espionage on the popular level. This approach would lead away from "One Subject Author trap." and might even gain "an advantage."

"Pat-Bailey" style.

The underlined portions of this article are quite provocative. Echoes of "Lone Assassins" - - - - .

Did any of the New Orleans figures have to your knowledge any direct involvement in J. F. K. Plot?

Sylvia Odioso Kerry Thornley to be an innocent figure.

Best Wishes,
